“Pulling force from the pillar stocks”

Stable movement. US stock futures were flat on Wednesday following a strong session for equities, as easing geopolitical tensions and falling oil prices lifted investor sentiment. On Tuesday, the S&P 500 and Nasdaq Composite climbed 1.11% and 1.43%, respectively, with both indexes approaching record highs. The Dow added 1.19%. Gains came after a US-brokered ceasefire between Israel and Iran appeared to hold, despite isolated clashes. Meanwhile, oil prices fell for a second straight day and are now down nearly 20% from recent highs. On the policy front, Federal Reserve Chair Jerome Powell struck a cautious tone in congressional testimony, signaling no urgency to change interest rates but reaffirming openness to a cut if conditions justify it. Investors now turn their attention to Powell’s upcoming appearance before the Senate Banking Committee, along with data on new home sales. Earnings results from General Mills, Micron, and Paychex are also on the radar.

Upward trend. VNINDEX closed at 1,366.77, marking an increase of 8.59 points or 0.63%, with liquidity at its 20-day average. The market saw 176 gainers and 127 decliners. Real estate and securities sectors were strong contributors to the market's performance.The stocks that contributed most significantly to the market's rally were VIC, VHM, and HVN, while GAS, BSR, and PLX were the primary contributors to the market's decline.Foreign investors were net buyers of 230 billion VND, primarily focusing on DGW and VND shares.

Trading Strategy: Investors are temporarily holding off on buying stocks that have already seen strong gains, as capital may shift toward stocks trading below their 200-day or 50-day moving averages. For new buying positions, priority can be given to real estate and banking stocks that are trading at low levels with a consolidation base; however, the allocation should remain modest

Stable movement

- US stock futures were flat on Wednesday following a strong session for equities, as easing geopolitical tensions and falling oil prices lifted investor sentiment. On Tuesday, the S&P 500 and Nasdaq Composite climbed 1.11% and 1.43%, respectively, with both indexes approaching record highs. The Dow added 1.19%. Gains came after a US-brokered ceasefire between Israel and Iran appeared to hold, despite isolated clashes. Meanwhile, oil prices fell for a second straight day and are now down nearly 20% from recent highs. On the policy front, Federal Reserve Chair Jerome Powell struck a cautious tone in congressional testimony, signaling no urgency to change interest rates but reaffirming openness to a cut if conditions justify it. Investors now turn their attention to Powell's upcoming appearance before the Senate Banking Committee, along with data on new home sales. Earnings results from General Mills, Micron, and Paychex are also on the radar.
- European equity markets were on track for a strong start Tuesday, buoyed by easing geopolitical tensions after President Donald Trump announced a ceasefire between Israel and Iran. The announcement came shortly after Iranian state media reported that Tehran had launched its "last round" of missiles at Israel.
- The Nikkei 225 edged up 0.1% to above 38,800 on Wednesday, while the broader Topix Index slipped 0.2% to 2,776, as Japanese equities struggled for direction amid geopolitical uncertainty. Investors weighed the sustainability of a US-brokered ceasefire between Iran and Israel, with intelligence reports indicating that recent US missile strikes failed to fully destroy Iran's key nuclear facilities.
- WTI crude futures fell by over 6% to $64.5 per barrel, extending a 7.5% loss in the previous session and trading below levels seen on June 12 when Israel attacked Iran.

Breaking News 06/25/2025

GMD - The first half of the year was very good, but we need to be cautious about tariffs.

In the first six months of the year, the company estimates revenue of 2,760 billion VND and pre-tax profit of 1,100 billion VND, achieving 56.9% of its revenue plan and 61% of its basic profit plan. The General Director emphasized that while the business results for the first half of the year were positive, the situation for the latter half of the year is quite difficult and uncertain. Additionally, at the general meeting, the company's leadership stated their efforts to complete the divestment of their afforestation segment (rubber in Cambodia) this year. The company's Chairman shared that with the infrastructure upgrade projects completed over the past year, and future projects like Nam Dinh Vu 3 and Gemalink phases 2A and 2B, Gemadept can absolutely achieve double-digit growth in the coming period, provided conditions remain normal and there are no crises.

MWG reports 5-month revenue up 13%, Bách Hóa Xanh exceeds full-year new store opening plan.

In the first five months of 2025, MWG recorded cumulative net revenue of 61.2 trillion VND, a 13% increase year-on-year. Specifically, the Mobile World (The Gioi Di Dong) and Dien May Xanh chains achieved a total revenue of nearly 41 trillion VND cumulatively over the five months, up 11% compared to the same period in 2024. For the first five months of the year, the Bach Hoa Xanh supermarket chain reached nearly 18.9 trillion VND in revenue, an increase of over 19% year-on-year.However, since May, the entire system's revenue has tended to plateau compared to the previous month due to the onset of the rainy season. As of the end of May, the chain had opened 410 new stores, with over 50% concentrated in the Central region. This progress has exceeded the initial plan set for the year of opening 200-400 new stores. According to MWG, these new points of sale recorded positive total profit at the store level, after deducting all direct operating costs. Alongside expansion, the chain is focusing on optimizing operations and controlling costs at stores, significantly improving operational efficiency.

Seafood exports surged, but VASEP remains concerned about reciprocal tarrif

According to VASEP, despite a sudden surge in export results during the first five months of the year, Vietnam's seafood industry is still facing a significant challenge from U.S. tax policies. The Vietnam Association of Seafood Exporters and Producers (VASEP) reported that the total seafood export value in the first five months of the year reached over $4.34 billion USD, a 22% increase compared to the same period in 2024. May alone saw nearly $997 million USD, a 20% increase.Regarding markets, the U.S. is at the center of volatility. In the first five months, exports to this market reached $774 million USD, a 27% increase. However, VASEP believes that the high growth in May is mainly temporary. After July 9th, if the tax rate reverts to the anticipated 46%, many businesses will be forced to halt shipments, leading to a significant risk of order decline in the third quarter.

Technical view and Trading strategy 06/25/2025

Trend: Resume the uptrend

VNINDEX closed at 1,366.77, marking an increase of 8.59 points or 0.63%, with liquidity at its 20-day average. The market saw 176 gainers and 127 decliners. Real estate and securities sectors were strong contributors to the market's performance.The stocks that contributed most significantly to the market's rally were VIC, VHM, and HVN, while GAS, BSR, and PLX were the primary contributors to the market's decline.Foreign investors were net buyers of 230 billion VND, primarily focusing on DGW and VND shares.

Technical:

The market saw an increase today, with demand improving after a short accumulation phase. Liquidity surged above average, indicating increased buying interest. However, the closing candlestick formed a gap, suggesting hesitation from investors as the uptrend wasn't entirely convincing. Currently, the VN-Index is trending upwards, and this trend will continue if selling pressure remains subdued

In the positive case: The market maintains the EMA50 in the face of short-term profit-taking pressure from the market, along with positive information from tax negotiations from Vietnam. This will open up a positive signal to help investors confidently disburse in the coming time.

In the base case: Vietnam has no new progress on tax agreements, the main trend will still trade sideways waiting for clearer signals from the market.

Strategy:

Investors are temporarily holding off on new purchases of stocks that have already risen sharply, as capital may shift toward those trading below their 200-day or 50-day moving averages. For new positions, priority can be given to stocks trading at lower price zones with established accumulation bases. However, allocation should remain moderate given the still-uncertain and risk-laden market environment.

Scenarios:

- Positive: The market comes back to the 1,340 area, heading to 1,400 level
- Base: The market is expected to retest the 1,250-1,300 area
- Negative: The market return to the 1,250 area

|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| No | Stock | Current Price | Target Price | Potential buying area | Expected return (from current price) | Note |
| 1 | VHC | 56.7 | 62.5 | 52.8 | 10.2% | Trade tensions are easing. There is strong capital inflow into VHC at the bottom zone. |
| 2 | VGC | 44.9 | 49.3 | 44.0 | 9.8% | VGC is consolidating near the 200-day moving average, with several sessions of strong volume indicating signs of capital inflow. |
| 3 | MWG | 64.9 | 69.0 | 60-62 | 6.3% | MWG has retested its 200-day moving average and the accumulation zone from nearly four months ago. The stock is showing a good reaction, so new buys could be considered after a correction. |
| 4 | HDG | 26.2 | 29.0 | 25.5 | 10.7% | HDG is expected to launch Charm Villas this year. Price and liquidity have improved significantly after breaking above the 20-day and 200-day moving averages (MA20 and MA200) |
